Paul Rudolph died in 1997. Finally, today we have a scholarly monograph dedicated to his life and work: Timothy Rohan's book "The Architecture of Paul Rudolph" is the first in-depth study of the architect. Based on extensive archival research and unpublished materials, the book unearths the ideas that informed Rudolph's architecture from his Florida beach houses of the 1940s to his concrete buildings of the 1960s to his lesser known East Asian skyscrapers of the 1990s.
